Empfohlene Voraussetzungen:

Successful completion of basic modules 1 and 2

Inhalt:

The advanced thematic seminar introduces students to a central topic of American literary studies. The seminar builds on systematic methodological and historical knowledge acquired in the lecture and applies it to specific examples which illustrate various approaches to literary texts, critically discuss questions of genre and address key issues such as aesthetics, cultures of memory, identity etc. The course continues/ complements the coursework of module 2 and deepens and expands the initiated discussion.

Lernziele und Kompetenzen:

Students acquire disciplinary competence in a selected thematic field of North American literary studies with a focus on U.S., Canadian, or Caribbean culture. They gain exemplary insight into forms and functions of literary practices and productions from both a diachronic and a synchronic perspective. They develop their abilities for independent, critical academic work and research suited to their advanced Master's level.
